What is the project about?

Stories about people who make Lower Bavaria better.

Emerenz is an online magazine that was founded in 2023 on a voluntary basis. A group of former journalists want to put positive, constructive journalism into practice at Emerenz. To this end, the Emerenz team tells stories about people in Lower Bavaria who make life here better. For example, people who volunteer or have developed a creative solution to a social problem. In addition to the podcast, Emerenz 2024 will also host two events (topics: democracy & literature).

What do I have to do?

Are you a talented organizer, do you like planning events or are you creative on social media?

Emerenz is looking for organizational talents to help with the planning of the two events (date in autumn 2024). In addition, anyone who would like to gain journalistic experience (in the preparation and production of the podcasts), creatively enrich Emerenz's social media presence or already has experience in editing audio files can work for Emerenz. Knowledge of German is required.
