German

Kick-Off, 25.April.,
6 pm, ISA

What is the project about?

The German courses at ESG are aimed at all people who want to learn German, most of whom are refugees. The courses are free of charge and take place daily from Monday to Friday between 16:00 and 17:30 for levels from A1.1 to A2.2. Each teacher gives lessons once a week in so-called "teaching teams", which consist of 2-3 teachers. There is an elaborated syllabus for each course level so that you always know what you should cover on your day, but there is also room for creativity.

There is a mandatory introductory event (25.04. at the AYCD Kick-Off in ITZ 005), in which we talk about organizational matters, give a didactic introduction and point out the special features of this particular volunteer project.

What do I have to do?

Together with 1-2 fellow students, you will teach a German course at levels A1 - A2 once a week. The teaching team consists of both volunteer students and professional teachers.

Mandatory introductory event of the ESG (approx. 1.5 hours):

Date 1: 25.04 at the AYCD Kick-Off, 6 pm, ISA

How much time do I need to invest?

The time required, including preparation and follow-up work and the teaching itself, is approximately 2 hours per week.

Course start: May 06

End of course: July 16

There are no lessons on public holidays.

Why you should join in

This is what participants from the last semester say about the project:

"For me, this kind of commitment is the least I can do to make people feel welcome and to counteract other opposing tendencies such as xenophobia or racism."

" My team partner was great and the joint work we did together has also been useful in improving my teamwork skills. I enjoyed every course and it was a very nice experience that will help me in other similar activities in the future."

" It's really nice to see how 'your' students progress in German and to accompany them for half a year on their way until they receive the certificates they have been working for all this time."
