What is it about?

Have a go, do it yourself, learn something new

The Innwerk is an open workshop that gives everyone access to tools and a creative space. We want everyone to have the chance to try their hand at crafts - regardless of whether they already have experience in repairing, building or sewing. Here, you can not only use tools for free, but also become part of a creative craft community.

Innwerk stands for exchange, creativity and the opportunity to expand your craft skills.

What do I have to do?

Creative, hands-on, collaborative - your projects at the Innwerk

The Innwerk thrives on the commitment of its members! Whether you already have a concrete idea or are simply curious - with us you can get involved in many areas and gradually find out what you enjoy most. Here are some of the areas in which you can get involved:

-  Workshop operations - taking on shifts in the workshop & looking after/helping visitors
-  Workshops & events - organise creative or craft workshops or offer something yourself
-  Co-operations - working together with e.g. the university, the city of Passau, other associations, companies
-  Public relations & social media - website, flyers, posters, photo & video material, social media support
-  Craft learning & sharing - passing on your own skills or trying out new things
-  Association administration & organisation - bookkeeping, administration software, fundraising
-  Community & exchange - organising meetings, promoting exchange between volunteers
