Passau has a vibrant private housing market. The average rent is about €350-550 a month for one bedroom. The cost depends on location, size, and utilities.

The most popular housing options you will come across as a student are:

- WG (Wohngemeinschaften or shared flats)
- Student Residence
- Private Studio or Apartment

When moving in, you must pay a deposit. This is usually two or three months' rent without utilities.

---

There are four student residencies in Passau managed by the Studierendenwerk Niederbayern/Oberpfalz:

- Bräugasse
- Donau-Schwaben-Straße
- Leonhard-Paminger-Straße
- Maierhofstraße

Student residencies are:

- Convenient
- Usually affordable
- Adapted for the needs of students
- Well-connected by bus or by foot
- For exchange students, the tenancy agreements are slightly different

A Wohngemeinschaft (WG), or shared apartment, is a common living arrangement in Germany, especially among students.

Finding a WG

- Websites like WG-Gesucht is quite popular
- Many WGs conduct interviews to ensure a good match in personality and lifestyle.

Shared Living Space

- Residents share common areas like the kitchen, bathroom, and sometimes the living room.

Cost Sharing

- Rent and utilities (electricity, internet, heating) are divided among all residents, making it an affordable option.
- Some WGs also share groceries or household items.
- The cost of radio tax is also shared.

- If you plan to study in Passau and want to rent a room or apartment in one of the student residencies, we recommend that you do not wait for the confirmation of your place of study to apply for a room in the halls. You do not enter into any contractual obligations by applying for a room: your application only becomes binding if you accept a room offered to you.
  - If you apply for a room in a student dorm, but sign a contract for alternative accommodation before you receive a response, please get in touch to withdraw your application.

Important Websites

If you are looking for a private apartment or a room in a WG, the following websites are the most useful for you:

- WG-gesucht (available in English!)
- Immobilienscout24
- Kleinanzeigen (formerly eBay Local)
- Kapfinger Wohnheim
- River Living Passau
- UNILIFE Passau

- Stud.IP (Notice Board and the Blubber Stream, accessible only if you already have your IT credentials)
- AEGEE Housing WhatsApp Group (QR Code on the side)

- Use online platforms and websites
- Treat the first messages as formal business emails
- Write a clear and polite email: introduce yourself, mention the property you're interested in, and include important details (e.g. your background, planned move-in date).
- Include required documents: attach your proof of income, SCHUFA report (if available), and student or employment status.
- Our recommendation: approach landlords in german using translation tools if necessary.

- Ask Relevant Questions – Inquire about rent, utilities, lease terms, and viewing arrangements (only if not clear in the announcement).
- Phone Calls – If the listing includes a contact number, calling may be more direct, but always be polite and professional.
- Be Responsive – Landlords often receive many inquiries, so follow up promptly and express genuine interest.
- In-Person Viewing – If you're in Passau, you can request an in-person viewing or suggest a virtual tour if you're not yet in town.

How to Get in Touch with WGs

Hello! 😊

Since my roommate has moved out for a new job, I'm looking for someone who would like to join our cozy shared flat.

I'm Mia, 25 years old, and currently studying media and communication. I enjoy exploring the city, trying out new recipes, and occasionally going to concerts. Your other roommate is Jonas, who is studying computer science and enjoys playing guitar and hiking in his free time.

We're looking for a relaxed and friendly person who enjoys both spending time together—like cooking dinner or playing board games—and also respects each other's space.

If you're interested in the room, feel free to send me a message with a little bit about yourself. We're looking forward to hearing from you! 😊

Hey Mia,
I am interested in becoming the third roommate. I am Alma, will start my Master's in informatik in Summer 2025. I come from Albania and love cooking. I could make you my Grandma's famous Pispili. I like to....

Hey!
Is the room furnished?

- Recognize a possible scam: If an offer seems too good to be true, it probably is. Be cautious of apartments or rooms with unusually low prices compared to similar listings. Scammers often use attractive photos and cheap rent to gain your attention. Always verify the landlord's identity and do not transfer money or sign any documents before viewing the place.
  - Ignore the scammer: Do not respond to their demands. Do not transfer money under any circumstances. If you have already transferred money, attempt to reverse the payment immediately, if possible.
  - Document everything: Save all correspondence, including emails, chat messages, and transaction receipts, as evidence. Keep copies of bank transfer confirmations or any other related documents.

- Personal details and signatures, accommodation details
- Amount of rent
  - “cold rent” + utilities (heating costs, electricity, water) = “warm rent”
- Amount of deposit (should not exceed 3 month’s rent) + details on refund
- Contract type (temporary or unlimited)
- Termination
  - temporary contract: automatic expiry (no termination required), usually early termination is not possible
  - unlimited contract: check the notice period (usually 3 months) and send a written and signed notice to the landlord.

Our recommendations

- Handover Protocol: When moving in, document the condition of the accommodation (photos) + meter readings (electricity, water, heating)
  - In case of damages, contact the landlord immediately (In case of repairs, the rental contract often specifies the amount above which the landlord will cover the costs)

- A tenant association can give you legal advice and support. It is recommendable to become a member right from the start (when moving to Passau). Problems arising before you join cannot be dealt with. (Consultation available immediately upon membership, legal protection insurance after 3 months)
  - Mieterverein Passau
    - 120 EUR annual membership fee + 20 EUR admission fee
    - Minimum duration: 2 years
    - Services only available in German
  - Alternatively, legal advice can be provided by the Student Legal Advice Service (Studentische Rechtsberatung). Advice is free of charge but does not include a legal protection insurance.
  - Please note that there may be long waiting times for an appointment!
